OUR VISION

Our vision is to sing for a future free from homophobia and all other discrimination.

OUR MISSION

Our mission is to create musical experiences that strengthen our role as a leader among LGBT and performing arts organizations; to enrich our member-artists; to support LGBT youth, to challenge homophobia and to expose new communities to our message of equality.

OUR HISTORY

In 1979 when the Gay Men’s Chorus of Los Angeles held its first rehearsal in Plummer Park with 99 men, it was an act of bravery and political action. Just the existence of a group of openly gay men performing in public was a powerful statement.

Later new challenges struck our community and the Chorus, having lost half of its own members to the AIDS pandemic, sang in the name of sadness and anger, and also to give hope and comfort to a devastated community. GMCLA’s response to the terrible rash of suicides by gay youth became one of the most powerful and widely seen videos of the It Gets Better campaign throughout the world. The Chorus has even formed its own compelling program, the Alive Music Project (AMP), to bring education, hope, and connection throughout LA schools. This coming year we will work with more students than ever.

We’ve sung for two sitting presidents, the inauguration of the current Speaker of the Assembly, and are now widely regarded as one of the best male vocal ensembles in the country. Our concerts are full of fun, emotion, and great joy and hope. But we have more to do. We need to fight for all groups seeking equality; we need to build emotional bridges between our community and others in Los Angeles. We’ve grown into a solid family of artists that love and care for each other and for Los Angeles. We will keep singing until no one faces bigotry and hatred. That is the best legacy any of us could leave.
ALIVE MUSIC PROJECT

Every year over 85% of LGBT students in American schools are physically or verbally abused. For over thirty years GMCLA has used music to overcome prejudice. Now we’re using song to teach acceptance and equality in schools.

AMP unites GMCLA singers with young audiences on their own turf in an effort to highlight the unique experiences shared by all humans—regardless of race, class, gender, age or sexual orientation. AMP has been proven to help engage students in the important work of comprehending and discussing the complexities surrounding human rights, civil rights, and the LGBT struggle for equality and actively promotes the reality that our struggle for equal rights is not only universal, but an issue that can affect any group of people who find themselves in the minority.

IT GETS BETTER TOUR

it gets better is a music and theater production, presented by GMCLA in partnership with Dan Savage’s It Gets Better Project. The week long residency program is aimed at energizing community awareness and support around the issues of bullying and harassment with workshops, community interaction, a world cafe and finally, a performance of the original theater work. After nearly a year of pre-production, the project kicked off in October 2012 in Iowa and is set to tour in small towns in the US through 2014.

Iowa served to affirm the necessity and vitality of this important program. The cast met with students at two high schools and their GSAs, with future educators at the University of Iowa, held countless Q & As and met with parents and community leaders who want to ensure the safety of their youth. They spent time with an openly gay 11 year old boy who was being bullied in school; his mother was overcome with gratitude for showing her son what is possible for him and other youth when they grow up. They met a young person who passed a note to one of our cast members indicating she had been contemplating suicide – but isn’t anymore. These are only a few of the many stories brought back from Iowa. Telling moments and proof that the journey GMCLA has embarked on with the It Gets Better Foundation and Speak Theater Arts is vital.
BRIDGE MUSIC PROJECT
A bridge is an interlude between two different parts of a song, connecting into one theme. Each year, members of the Chorus appear at more than twenty community events, supporting other organizations, marking memorials, and celebrating victories and moments of joy. We come from very different places, races, nations, religions and political beliefs. The Chorus is that bridge that continues to connect with other communities.

GMCLA GIVES BACK
Members of GMCLA volunteer and work to give back to the home we love, Los Angeles. Every holiday season, members sing carols in area hospitals to bring joy to those in pain. In 2011, we began serving Thanksgiving dinner to the underserved and visiting senior living centers.

OUTSIDE VOICES
Outside Voices is a new mixed chorus formed by GMCLA and LifeWorks, a mentoring program of the LA Gay and Lesbian Center. This chorus is for youth ages 16 to 24, who are lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgendered, or straight allies. It will provide not only a musical outlet for young people, but a place to come together and feel safe to express themselves. Outside Voices will premiere on stage with Gay Men’s Chorus of Los Angeles during our spring concert, “Awakenings,” in mid-March.
